Access more critical information about healthcare providers

Offered as a service option for Enclarity ProviderPoint® and Provider SelectFile™, Enclarity Physician Office Attributes let health plans and preferred provider organizations (PPOs) access more detailed information on physician offices. This additional information can help you validate and augment critical data about physician offices, assuring that both printed and Web-based provider directories are more accurate and up-to-date.

Details make all the difference. Enclarity Physician Office Attributes boost the power of ProviderPoint and Provider SelectFile by giving you access to additional information:

- Office hours
- Languages spoken
- Whether new patients are being accepted
- Whether the physician's office accepts Medicare and Medicaid

Knowledge is power. By improving the depth and quality of information in your provider directories, Enclarity Physician Office Attributes help you offer more useful information to members and consumers. It's a powerful member satisfaction and retention tool that lets consumers make more informed decisions about the right physician for them.

Better information means smarter member decisions. Powered by Enclarity, keeping your members happy can be easier than ever. Talk to us about how our Physician Office Attributes can help your business.
